

"LOOKING 'EM OVER"

With Mike Callas Jr.

JOURNEY OF THE TWENTY

Not too long ago the Torrance Press and Jim Smith of Jumbo's Sporting Goods sponsored a baseball contest for boys between the ages of 7 and 14.

The baseball-loving youths had to complete the sentence, "Why I Like Baseball." Many answered and from these, 20 were selected and were to be taken to a Sunday Dodger game. The date selected was this coming Sunday, July 26; however, when parents of the youths were contacted, we found that many of the lads were away at summer camps or visiting relatives.

Therefore, we have selected another date—Sunday, Sept. 13—when we'll be sure that all of them will be available.

Photographs will be taken and published in this newspaper of the kids posing with Dodger and Pittsburgh Pirate stars.

AL SCHACHT ENTERTAINS

Many years ago we were fortunate to see the Clown Prince of Baseball, Al Schacht, at a Yankee game in New York. Dressed in zany paraphernalia—a battered silk hat and in a somewhat bedraggled tux. His antics have his audience roaring with laughter and a desire to see him again.

The Dodger publicity office informs us that Al will perform prior to tomorrow night's game between the Cards and Dodgers.

Schacht's appearance will be the first at a major league game on the west coast. He intends to include in his hilarious program highlights of all his World Series shows as well as impersonations of the playing styles of the team he has selected as his all-time major league club.

If you have never seen the "Clown Prince," we heartily urge you to be at the Coliseum tomorrow night. His act is by far the greatest show in baseball.

LADIES, PLEASE NOTE

Harold Parrott, business manager of the Dodgers, advises that because of an edit in the schedule in September, no Saturday night games—three Thursday nights have been designated as Ladies' nights. They are Sept. 13th (St. Louis), 10th (Philly) and 17th (Cincinnati).

BETTER CATCHER NEEDED

For some reason unknown to us, the Dodgers spent much money, time and in trades in search of top talent for every position except that of catcher.

Behind the so-so hitting and not too good catching of John Roseboro, the Dodgers have Joe Pignatano, a weak hitter, but perhaps a shade better in the catching department.

Neither one of these players has really given us something to cheer about up to this stage of the game. At times Roseboro looked great at the plate, then he went on long slumps with pop-ups, strikeouts and ground balls his major effort. Hardly anything good can be said about Pignatano except that he makes a good bull-pen receiver.

Most of the team, as it stands now, is made up of what it takes to at least challenge for the pennant. However, the team needs a .270 catcher badly. Without this, I doubt the club could finish any better than fourth.

And I was looking forward to my first World Series attendance since 1940. Oh, well, maybe next year, as they used to say in Brooklyn.

BUCKING BULL—Ray West has precarious seat on bucking bull like this is promised at this year's rodeo to be staged here next week-end in civic center.

Name Champs in Dart, Archery Tourney at ECC

Champion dart throwers and archers in the El Camino College summer recreational program were named today by Al Greenleaf, who heads the community program.

Youngsters from 6 to 13 years of age participated in the two events during the past week. Free of charge, the recreational activities are offered to children of the college community.

In the dart throw tournament, Richard Butterfield and Dennis Ford of Torrance took first and second place respectively in competition with other 12-year olds. Doug Alhart of Gardena took first place for the 11-year division, with Ronnie Aaron of Gardena and Carol Southstone of San Pedro following.

Mickey Yokoyama, Patti Gretsman and Al Wagner of Gardena place one, two, three in the 10 year group, while Andrew Volpe of Torrance and Eddie Greteman of Gardena placed first and second for the 9-year-olds. Philip Aaron of Gardena, Steve Bowman of Torrance and Terry Weber of Hawthorne were the top three in competition among the 6, 7 and 8 year-old boys. Jan Essick of Palos Verdes, Judy Southstone of San Pedro and Loretta Weber of Hawthorne took top honors for 6, 7 and 8-year old girls.

Archery champs were Richard Aaron of Torrance, 13-year division; Lex Potts, Manhattan Beach, 12-year-olds; Carol Southstone, San Pedro, 11-year-old girls; Joe Dunn, Gardena, 11-year-old boys; Eddie Gateman, Gardena, 9 years; Philip Aaron, Torrance, 7 and 8 years, and Kerri Greenleaf, Torrance, 6.

1959 HUNTING REGULATIONS
I shall attempt to answer all the questions that I have been asked in the last few weeks about the new hunting regulations.

The cost of the license which is good from July 1 to June 30, 1960 is $4. This is the basic license and allows you to shoot the basic small game such as rabbits, dove, and quail.

In addition there are necessary the following stamps and permits. Deer tags, $2; Pheasant tags, $2; Bear tags, $1; and Duck stamps which are Federal Stamps.

Every person that hunts must have a hunting license when hunting any kind of game. (These always are hard to find near the season opening so get yours early.) Resident citizens under 16 years of age must complete a course of instruction and present a certificate of completion before they can obtain a license which costs $1.

SEASONS

Deer, Coastal—July 25 through Sept. 13; Inland—Sept. 26 through Nov. 1.

Bear, Coastal—July 25 through Jan. 15; Inland—Sept. 25 through Jan. 15.

Pheasant Imperial and Riverside, Nov. 14 through Dec. 13. Balance of state, Nov. 14 through Nov. 29.

Quail, So. Calif., Nov. 14 through Jan. 3; No. Calif., Oct. 31 through Dec. 15. Balance of state Oct. 31 through Jan. 3.

Jack Rabbit, year round season.

Other regulations:
No shotgun shall be used in the taking of small game which has a capacity of more than three shells. No air rifle or pellet gun shall be used in the taking of any flying game bird such as quail and pheasant.

Space does not permit the technical aspects of the regulations, but they can be gotten at any sporting goods store.

Bert Vollmer, 1009; $100, 4th prize, Susan Diamond, 1002. High games for tournament thus far are Bill Becker, 248 for the men and Bea Jennings with 214 for the ladies.

College Gym to Be Available for Adult Recreation

Expansion of facilities available to adults in the free evening Summer Recreation Program of El Camino College was announced today by Merl F. Sloan, director of student personnel.

Effective this week, the college gymnastics room will be open each evening, enabling community residents to utilize such facilities as the trampoline, parallel bars, tumbling mats, rings and ropes. Other activities which are open to the public include badminton, table tennis, tennis, volleyball, and basketball. Although lockers are available for dressing, participants must furnish their own towels, the college administrator announced.
